Windbags Debate

The contentious issue of wind turbine generation of power for the national grid has driven a virulent wedge through the heart of the Odessa community.

The debate over the aesthetics of the Wolf Island wind turbine farms has fuelled acrimonious divisions between farmers avid to 'Go Green' maximizing the farming potential of their fields, and local conservation aesthetes who prefer the tranquil brown-field look with its connotations of redundant bird and animal life hanging around with nothing much to do. There are many technologies on offer and the prudent will study the advantages of each technology to tailor a solution that will suit individual needs.

The new Maglev rotor proposed for the Snitford farm is capable of producing up to 2 Gigawatts of electrical energy or the equivalent of 1000 turbine towers. This installation will be able to power up to 750,000 homes in the Odessa area on a windy day. However some conservationists may wish to preserve their age old rituals of tilting at windmills and may opt for a more traditional aesthetic. "That old technology is also highly labour intensive, being estimated that each traditional windmill would require up to 5 full-time live-in attendants. The unemployment figures in the Odessa area would plummet overnight."

"Instead of an onslaught of itinerant Danes we have the option here of providing full employment for all of our local under-employed!" effuses Cyril Van Poop, the owner of The Mill Yer Own Floss the biggest supplier of Green Energy equipment in the area.

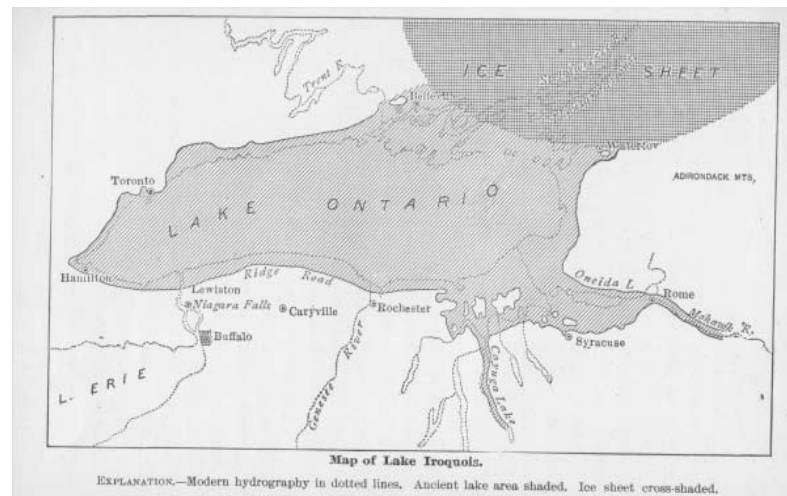

Many prefer a more Retro Look to the technology

First Nations Converge for Odessa Pow-Wow

A likely First Nation burial ground and archaeological site dating back to the recession of the last ice age 10,000 years ago has been the focus of intense negotiation on Bod Uggers Farm. Since the sudden departure of their Christmas 2008 Extravaganza, Lapland the Place I Quite Want 2 Be, the dismissed elves and Lap Dancers have been employed in the business of land remediation with the ploughing in of thousands of tons of Glas-site Ever-Wonder Perma Snow.

During one of these exercises their shovels uncovered what is thought to be the remains of a midden for an extensive settlement on the shores of the vast Lake Iroquois formed by the waters of the receding ice age. "I'm no expert" confessed Bod (Santa) Uggers, "but these bones included many saber-like teeth and what appeared to be mastodon femurs, albeit the mini mastodons, more fleet of foot." First Nation representatives from across the country have already begun to converge on the area to lay claim to their ancestors' sacred grounds.

So sure is Grand Chief Fred Grub, (Little Running Moose), that he can demonstrate direct links to these long extinct peoples that he has brought his own DNA Research Team to establish direct genetic derivation. "It'll be total mayhem here" enthused Bod. "The only solution is for the Ontario Heritage foundation to buy the whole property and perhaps get UNESCO to proclaim it a World Heritage Site. Once they start sifting through this properly they're gonna find somethin' useful beyond a doubt"

"We Chickowoggans have an ancient saying... We do not own the land, we are just custodians looking after it on behalf of our children." explained Little Running Moose. "This archaeological find may predate the Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte by as much as 8 millennia, and make the Draper Community at Pickering look like a pathetic afterthought" chuckled Moose. "Once we establish our ancestral patrimony here we plan to open a casino and cigarette factory on the non-sacred areas and give the whole local economy one heckofa boost – though we may have to close the highway and seal off the Kingston area"

Redressing Crimes Against Humanity

The Mayor of Odessa, Frank Pratt, has launched an ambitious programme to extend effusive and unmitigated apologies to over 100,000 "Home Children" who were transported to Canada since 1618. This brutal programme was originally intended to divest the United Kingdom of some of its superfluous junior population upon the colonies. These were the products of broken homes and doubtful marriages. The programme was finally terminated in 1967.

A Gala Apology luncheon including many of the first families of the region and local church leaders will be held at the Come-down Ranchhouse on Division at the corner of Cesspipe Rd. "Many of these children were shipped into near slave labour conditions to work on farms, forced to subsist on donut free diets and given new unimaginative surnames. These kids, of an average age of 8 years, shipped out from the rookeries of Britain to all parts of the world, were paid as little as $1 a year until the age of 18 and were obliged to perform the most grueling of farm tasks."

"In my capacity of Mayor of Odessa I want to issue my total and unreserved apology to these children so unjustly served. So many of them settled in the Kingston area. Sadly there can be no compensation to the victims for a horrendous period of our history now that they are all dead. Any who for some reason are not dead clearly got off lightly and wouldn't be eligible anyway."

Next Tuesday the Mayor will host a further Unreserved Apology Gala Luncheon in honour of Victims of the Odessa Pogrom of 1905 (– especially those who have been dead since 1905).

The Cyril Sweett Bequest

Although the Odessa Art Foundation has put a deposit of $24 million on the renowned masterpiece Virgin with a Box of Chocolates the new Moo-Moo gallery will not be able to take delivery until the balance is paid to the Hoffburg von Bourbon family who are reluctantly parting with this cherished masterwork reascribed to Buonamico. However as a timely godsend to buoy up the ambitions of the museum, Cyrill Sweett has generously bequeathed his vast collection of candy wrappers and biscuit boxes, dating back as far as the early 1960's and indisputably the world's pre-eminent collection of such artefacts. It has been bestowed on the museum on condition that Moo-Moo undertake to build an extension to house the collection in appropriate setting. These display specimens date back before the days of bilingual packaging and ingredient listing which makes them of particular interest. Many specimens are intact and will require the most up to date climate control technology to maintain them in pristine condition and vermin free. Cyril Sweett envisioned his Sweettarium as a focus for an all day family outing with a large and well-stocked refectory for kids and adults to sample a full range of produce from around the world after visiting the show.

Yer Darn Tootin' Pootin

Jamie Kennedy's latest franchise brain child Darn Tootin Pootin is due to open next week in the recently vacated Tim Hortons on the corner of Pioneer and Cesspipe Rd. "In these days of economic uncertainty it is natural that our punters turn to comfort food that stuffs them with a satisfying sense of family values ... all home-cooked and at a very affordable cost." Our secret Poutine recipe includes Squeaky Squelch Wiltin' Cheese Curds and Whiffy Peanut Butter as well as several other secret ingredients which I am not at liberty to name because they are top secret and I cannot tell you what they are as a result. Tootin' Pootin is served with lashings of salt and monosodium glutamate, ingredients that underlie wholesome family values." "We are canvassing for gastro-scientific support for our campaign to have Pootin classed among the 5 food groups essential for daily intake." The restaurant is particularly well favoured by American tourists who have lost their way on the Loyalist Highway. They've heard all about Pootin from Palin and they want to try some."

The Arts - Tax Proposal - The Bad the Worse and the Ugly

With runaway costs and subsequent cut back of the proposed Moo-Moo Gallery straddling the centre of Odessa new sources of revenue are desperately being sought until such a time that the self financing aspect of the scheme kicks in. The gallery costs have accelerated exponentially since the abandonment of the ambitious Samoht Eil riaf scheme straddling the highway two years ago. "The gallery will be obliged to attract over 5 million patrons annually in order to reach a secure break even plateau" explained financing advisor Chuck Chizler. The Odessa banking community has become uneasy about the high levels of debt that they are carrying on behalf of the museum. However down payments have already been placed on many of the important items assembled by the founder director Roger Crufts-Bedelham. "We have put a downpayment on the latest Damien Hirst masterwork For the Love of God, a diamond encrusted skull which was centre piece of the infamous DH recent show in London (Europe). It has been voted the most talked about art abject of the decade and certainly the most obvious in what you are actually getting for your money. We may have to downgrade however to the Zircon version, which would be a pity." The Odessa Chamber of Commerce has suggested a tax on billboards and advertisements similar to that which has been proposed in Toronto. This tax would be over and above the licencing fees that advertisers pay to the town and provincial roads authorities. "In fact, the genius of this scheme is that it all adds up to a tax on 'ugliness'" enthuses Moo-Moo director Roger Crufts-Bedelham. "When it gets down to it the only way that we will be able to fund our vision for the Odessa Phoenix project is by extending our tax base considerably."

"Naturally we are not proposing that the 'ugliness' assessors penalize the citizens of Odessa themselves. We wish to remain fully compliant with the UN International Charter of Human Rights. But there are so many inanimate eyesores in the area which a tax such as this would lend an incentive to address. In Toronto they have already wrapped many ugly buildings in advertisements and such recourse would give a double bite at the cherry so to speak."

Juggling Dates

The Odyssa Jugglers Club, Poi Polloi has never before snatched so much of the limelight in local venues like the ComeDown Café and the Twilight VampBar.

As the Grey Power generation expands it has had to take ever more strenuous steps to resist naturally diminishing capacities. This is a generation that finds itself resorting to extreme sports and pastimes to hone those residual reflexes and augment dwindling survival skills.

It is hardly surprising then that Juggling and Poi have seen unprecedented growth in recent years in the Odessa area with the development of many life enhancing opportunities for social interaction. Chain-saw Poi has particularly captured the public imagination among our senior citizens.

"There is nothing like a flutter of roaring chainsaws coming at you from all directions to focus survival instincts suggests Thor McPuttie of the local group Poi Polloi.

Thor is a resident of the Bide-de-Bye Care Home at the corner of Sequin and Cess St.

"A fully loaded Husquvarna lashed at full throttle can slice through a lot of inhibitions if it comes winging my way" chuckles Thor.

"We're angling for a Winter Olympics presence but we'll have to cut our ranks drastically to achieve top Olympic standards.

The Workout from Hell drives Fitness to a New Level

The Tusq Blason Centre for X-treme Fitness in Odessa is throwing down one helluva challenge to local couch potatoes seeking to transform their self images and pick up the pace of life.

Tusq, the brain behind the Tusq Blason Concept explains his mission this way. "A lot of the local population are lapsing into a sedentary lifestyle where the big event of the day is driving your SUV over to Tim Horts' for a timbit and coffee. Under the circes the pounds begin to stack up. Here at X-treme we've declared war on increase of your 'biological footprint' that can come with age."

"We start you off with an injection of Tusq Elixir Oil, our own patented concoction or 'the Elixir' as I like to call it, a saturated steroid cocktail, all completely non-alcoholic and perfectly legit of course, which is administered by our skilled technician, Skippy, at the beginning of your session."

Six injections received at 2 hourly intervals during the course of your daily workout will see you through a 12 hour training regimen literally reeking with good health" enthuses trainer / impresario Tusq.

Each injection kick starts a session of organized exercise, 1000 speed squats, 1000 press ups, then tricep dips ad infinitum followed by one hour of relentless skipping.

At the end of a 2 hour mini-session we measure up the results and enter the data on our performance profile which is displayed on the Tusque Big Screen at the Odessa Roundabout.

Folks just can't help themselves, once my Tusq oil is coursing through their veins they feel like spring chickens and they're off, rarin' to go. The day is brought to a conclusion and with our own patented 'warm down', a special cocktail that we call the Cool It and Scram Elixir. Heh heh!"

also administered by Skippy. "We've found that under this regime you can lose up to 10 pounds of excess flab a day and the self definition achieved has to be seen on the high definitions screens on the Odessa Roundabout."

Dear Aggie,

a weekly syndicated column with Agnus O'Nants B.Psych, MPD, mem. SICCO

Dear Aggie,

I want to ask your candid strategic advice on how to extract a full and cold blooded revenge, as they say vengeance is best served cold, and I have no taste for global warming at this time.

I have been advertising regularly in the personals section of the Oracle for some years now joining with the throng of Russian exotics but trying to project a less desperate note. I worked hard to develop my persona, a sort of Garbo from Smolensk kind of gal, dying my hair raven black and smoking Sobranie Black Russians. And I subscribed to the full package of Michel Thomas Learn Russian While You Sleep language lessons. My husband, Clem, who works as a guppy breeder in the PescoParadise at Kingston's Aquariworld didn't seem to notice any of these changes - which is normal. I had many responses to my ads, but some of these were highly doubtful and I took some pains to analyse the integrity of each writer. I corresponded with my Graphologist, Belle Letrine (name and shame!) and she suggested that one letter stood out as a truly authentic human being - which is exactly what I had in mind.

I responded instanter and this opened up an exploratory correspondenc with Victor Goldhew, an Argetinian plutocrat and Titan of Industry, currently residing in Napanee.

At last the day arrived when we agreed to get together and meet at the Vulgar Boatman Bistrot in Napanee.

I had dolled myself up like you wouldn't believe and positioned myself in the sympathetic sultry gloom when to my horror my Clem waltzed in with a havana in his lapel and a red rose clenched in his teeth. (It being a no smoking venue) I recognised him instantly even though he didn't look at all like the Victor in the photos. I can tell you that I was completely mortified. Anyway I snuffed my sobranie (unlit) and scarpered speedily through the back door.

What I want to know is whether I can take legal action against my graphologist for unprofessional conduct? Surely she should have known the guy's a phoney. Clem's handwriting normally looks like a guppy in deaththroes. But I also want to exact revenge on Clem for two-timing me. Do you see any way that I could get them both together - a kind of package deal to double the pleasure.

If revenge is something best served cold, perhaps a cruise that end up at a bus stop in Antarctica?

What would you suggest?
Yours fumingly,
Loona Skypova

Dear Loona,

Thanks for the tip about Victor. I'm not too keen on cruises myself.

Graphology is an imperfect art. We all try very hard.

Yours truly,

Aggie O'Nant

Railin' Palin

"Would God have made animals out of meat if He wanted us to shoot vegetables?"

Sarah Palins appearance last week in Decennial Hall has given rise to speculation that there may be Ident-i-kit Palins blanketing the country undertaking promotion of her latest book Honest to God. She has been relentless in her promotional efforts and it is indeed a wonder that she has time to write three largely autobiographical books this year.

Palin deflected critics "HTG is a heart felt analysis of my role in helping God to realize His ambitions for the American way of life. And I say - Anyone who messes with God has got to answer to me."

Palin's 2012 presidential plans sprang a new vitality with her recent endorsement of the Really Real Irish Republican Army (RRIRA). Her summer best-seller Going Pogue - an American Wife seems to have captured the Irish imagination.

"I've always found the idea of equipping Republicans with guns very appealing," says Palin. "And I know that I can count on Irish support. Lots of my friends are Irish and though Alaska does not share a direct border per say with Ireland nothing is that far away these days. I also want to hone my international diplomatic skills by cementing ties with the forgotten folks that make up the underbelly of American society"

Palin also put over the message of one of her co-sponsors, the Federation for Lifestyles of Alaskan Beeffarmers, FLAB. Amongst this welcoming and consensual country audience at the centre she lashed out against Commie Vegetarians who are undermining the foundation of American Culture. "Would God have made animals out of meat if He wanted us to shoot vegetables?"

Palin has already consented to return next year to participate in the Odessa Annual Funshoot (OAF week) in which the folk of Odessa equip their families with guns to go out and blast the winter fields. Gaily decorated snowpanthers all combine with local high spirits to make this the most memorable festivity week of the local calendar.

RRIRA who are concurrently undertaking an extensive fund-raising drive in rural communities across North America, have been asked to participate in the FunShoot, bringing their latest ballistic technology.

Secur-a-Phobe

Did you know that the Kingston areas harbours more felons per capita than the most unreconstructed areas of Hellmanned Province? ... and indeed in any other part of Canada - almost twice the national average???

"Family values are under attack" says Roger Rabid the CEO of Secur-a-Phobe, a local security company which has set itself up to counter pervasive laissez-faire liberal values and offer a secure environment for law abiding folk to pursue their goals in life.

"But with no thanks to our 'Go Easy on Crime and Depravity' styled politicians, local responsible home owners do not have the recourse of arming themselves with advanced weapons systems as do our neighbours south of the border."

"We may not have the option here of equipping our loved ones with AK-47's but we can call on recognized experts in the field to supply up to the minute technology handled by battle savvy professionals"

"Our HenchPhobes © are all battle-hardened individuals who are trained in the latest technologies and able to manage the most arduous of battle scenes. They have no compunction in ripping apart anyone attempting to breach a cordon sanitaire of family values with nefarious intent."

Taser Technology to be Introduced to Local School

Local Teachers at the Odessa Public School are to be offered the latest stun gun technology in the form of the RER-2-GO 508 under a pilot scheme to address indolence and disaffection with the current curriculum.

According to Vice Principal Nancy Mippim this will be a discretionary opt-in scheme. Only those teachers who request the training will be permitted to carry the latest 50,000 volt RER's

"The guns have a range of up to 25 feet and are designed to reach the back of classrooms where somnolent or dissident elements tend to position themselves. Strict guidelines for taser use are carefully monitored so that they will only be applied at maximum voltage under extreme circumstances."

"As it is we tend to have less of a problem with delinquency than with students' general lack of interest in course materials. If the students aren't interested how can you expect our teachers to be? Emos and Pattinson look-alikes drop the attitude and pick up the buzz mighty quick."

"These tasers should be seen as incentivisers" explained Ms Mippim. "The RER is really little more than a cattle prod in more sexy packaging. 'Red Dotting' students picks up the pace of a class considerably and is a good way to maintain the distance of students and the authority of the teacher".

More Hairdressing Salons to Open in the Odessa

Thanks to a new hairdressing programme that has been set up in the Kingston High Security Enclave, the Odessa area has opened its newest salon on Belle Street. The Die Your Roots Programme seems particularly appealing to ex-terrorists according to Governor Jakson Jeste today who was on hand to snip the ribbon.

"One thing you gotta hand it to our Cell Block D lifers, that's where we stack the hardened terrorists - their background training in explosives and chemical reactions has them ideally placed to manage the complex chemistry involved in today's state of the art hair salons."

We are seeing huge quantities of these chemicals supplied shipped into the stores here. We almost can't keep up and there are avant garden salons mushrooming from Odessa to Napanee, with their own unique business plans for beating off the competition. Andy Grubb, a local Odessa boy, who has been re-christened (so to speak) Maksoor Ibn Kalb al Qabeeh is quite forthright in his opinions. "You've got a helluva lot of talent here – and one of the things you've got to admit about these boys, they all sport big hair."

The Odessa 19 who were arrested moments before their well organized plot to behead the prime minister on prime time have entered a day release programme to set up their sensational new salon on Gore Street, Hair Today and Gone Tomorrow.

"Our sensational new Semtex 2010 Style is offered free to all Canadian athletes participating in the 2010 Winter Olympics. We're planning to just blow away the competition."

"We offer a service that is complimentary to our other brother salons that have just opened in Town, Hair-Antix, Sch-Hair-a-zade, N'Hair-do-well and Hair Apparent all offer unique styles. Each one has its own little niche in a competitive market."

Finding Your Roots in the Community

guest columnist - Lady Gaga

The Finding Your Roots in the Community Organisation has chalked up another human relations triumph by reuniting long lost family members who never knew they had it coming.

The Puny Bomber joined an inmate scheme to reunite Canada's most notorious felons with their natural and biological birth-parents.

Adopted and reared by a god-fearing evangelical Christians, Sebastian St John Plimsole later renowned as the 'Puny Bomber' whose reign of terror paralysed the West Coast of America for more than a decade, was obliged to attend church on every Sunday of his formative years and participate in relentless church picnicing. These activities completely undermined his natural disposition and are thought to have precipitated his campaign of devastation that left America in terror for more than a decade.

As a Canadian citizen and a bit of a celebrity phenomenon he has been resident in the Kingston area high security facility where he has resisted American demands for extradition.

Through the charitable organization 'Bared Roots' he has been able to trace his Canadian roots and substantiate his right to resist extradition. By examining all baby deliveries records in the Odessa area he has determined his genetic parents and the moment of his delivery into the world. The one significant clue that he had to go on was a three legged Teddy that his mother had left wrapped in a blanket left on the church steps which he later lovingly named 'Slasher' and which accompanies him to this day in his cell.

What a relief when the results of his home DNA test kit returned the results that he drew direct lineage from Timur the Frenzied, one time scourge of Samarkand (Ontario).

Once he found records of his biological and subsequently his biodegraded parents he was able to make contact with his whole extended clan who have a truly national outlook with permanently fixed addresses in some of the most formidable penal institutions across the country. This is a truly Canadian phenomenon. Hitherto unknown siblings have matured into a well adjusted brood of psychopaths – like the legendary Jarker twins whose hi-jinx paralyzed the Odessa area throughout the 1960's when they drew the Button Boys into interne-cine conflict which resulted in the decapitation of a herd of farm animals. It is thought that Odessa's Gore Street has been named to commemorate their antics.

Garden Tips and Grace Notes - Gardenia Throbthumb

Since we have had no recent tantalising questions from our hortipublic, aside form further equiries about Ms dela

All those little seeds that come into my kitchen, the orange and lemon pips, the apple and grape seeds, the old coffee beans, squash, turnip, bananas and starfruit, you name it, I collect them in a giant bin by my sink. Then I like to steep them in a mixture of Granny Duncan's Steroid Cloning Syrup mixed with lashings of my brandy butter. If you do this at the time of the full moon you will discover the seeds springing into rampant life within days. I always favour a little competition in

Scared Cows: Church Turf Wars All Hell Breaks Loose

When the Church in far off (but not far enough) Rome announced the latest Pope Benedict XVI encyclical allowing disaffected loonies and right wing bigots the opportunity to rejoin the Catholic Church, no questions asked, did he foresee sparking a turf war among the many churches in the Odessa Area?

But this is exactly what has happened according to Hef Peddler, a local psycho-religio analyst. "Local congregations were quick to understand the message that "All is Flair in Love thy War"

"Competition for the Devotee Dollar has been ratcheted up another notch after this broadside form the Vatican" claims Hef.

The Church on the Ho-Ho Hosannah on Division Street, vowing to put the 'FUN' back into fundamentalism (previously lapsing into just mentalism) has plotted an ambitious course of full scale re-enactments of key scenes from the Old Testament starting with this week's spectacular "Jezebel and her Many Flaming Carmelites" - a full scale cast and 'to die for' pyrotechnics in the parking lot adjacent to the Church of the Palpitation on the other side of Division.

The Reverend Dr Damien Malfoie-Gras, presiding minister of the Ho-Ho Ho, will be playing the part of Elijah and forty altars will be set up in strategic locations ranged surrounding the Palps property. Both Congregations are invited to bring offerings suitable for divine ignition. "Please no rats and small vermin!" stresses the Dr Damien.

"After the festivity I intend to deliver a sundown message on the theme "Cow Towing to the Almighty".

The Palps congregation have been invited to participate in this extravaganza decked out as the priests of Baal.

Dr Malfoie-Gras would be interested in hearing from any suitable painted harlot prepared to play the key role of Jezebel and can be contacted by such suitably qualified on his direct number 613 606-3315 or 613-HOT-SHOT

"There are a lot of Scared Cows that we need to challenge here and Pope Benedict is top of my list."

It has been some time since a haunting has assumed the lime-light in the Odessa area. The current vogue for paranormal sleuths has placed the industry in such disarray that we have in recent years suffered from paranormal overload.

However the case of the Stolen Identity has sent a shiver down the collective spine of the town. The ghastly spectral appearance of a faceless entity of indeterminate years, sex and racial origin has been noted hovering in the verges of Gore Road at the time of the full moon on a number of occasions by local citizens.

Among these who have experienced the revenant has been Professor Von Snizzler, professor of parapsychology at Queens University.

"This revenant inhabits a disturbed pan-psychomedical con-ing cars."

"When it comes to conspiracy theory cults and belief in paranormal the folk around Odessa are not as advanced as the great majority of North Americans" suggests Von Snizzler, who also enjoys a role as founder of CAN-BUB (Canadian Centre for Bizarre and Unusual Behaviour) "According to a recent and reputable survey by People Magazine 80% of Americans believe that Nine-Eleven was a put up job by George W. Bush, whereas the same demographic cross-section in the Kingston area say they prefer Seven their Eleven when absolutely nothing happens whatsoever."

Home Makeover – A Near Miss – By Debbie Diva

When Jeb Ternip spotted a HomeMakerMakover advertisement in the Odessa Oracle he imagined the kudos attached to having his tumbledown buildings on Mud Lake Road transformed into a cool draw for the local waitresses at the ComeDown Bar in Napanee. Also appealing was the prospect of having his lifestyle revealed in minute detail on national television as the makeover was effected step by step - and all for free! Who could resist a deal like that?

Hector Holmes, the design genius behind the ever popular Makeover Magic quickly recognized the television potential of the situation when he met Jeb for the first time in the ComeDown Sky Lounge. Having handed over the keys to Hector, Jeb walked away with a signed contract - a happy man. But not for long... As days then weeks passed, Jeb was mystified at the slow progress of the transformative works. I was spectin the place to be overrun with chicks in leopards and the public just ichin to get a glimpse of my lifestyle", moaned Jeb.

But even though Highway 2 seemed chock full of film vans backed up to the roundabout - (so much so that Jeb would find it difficult to access his driveway every evening until the film community turned in) the daily accomplishments seemed modest.

"The problem was I couldn't quite see what they was makin' over. Every night I would come home and carefully go over the ole homebase. Perhaps I would find a jam pot moved in the refrigerator or a door left half ajar. As you can imagine I was mighty disappointed and I couldn't see Big Bessie getting off on the excitement of a relocated jam jar. Meanwhile my neighbor, that so-called gentleman farmer Cruft-Bessington was busy transformin' his cedar shake-down monster home into a scene like from Disney World. I can tell you I was on the phone every morning to Hector hectoring (heh heh) for something a little more radical. It was Cruft-B's car crash scene mounted on the roof and all that splatter paint that got me. Now that's what I call eye-catching."

OOT were able to catch up with and interview Hector Holmes in the ticket line at Belleville International. "Yep, Jeb was one of our most receptive clients. It is great to work with someone who really rises to an occasion. After our first day of makeover with the Bombe Squad we entered the set to find a corpse keeled over in the entry foyer. It was then we realized that we had real television on our hands. And we rose to the challenge in spades, working with our deconstruction stylist to augment the decompo themes that the situation elicited.

Yet Jeb just kept on asking for more radical solutions. Our style gurus ran in overdrive and the television audiences lapped up every minute. I don't think Makeover Magic ever experienced such a ratings bonanza! We got so much publicity that I'm off to pitch for a big job in Chechnya as we speak."

Your Hooroscope

Sponsored this week by the First Unlimited Nigerian Bank of Odessa - FUNBOO

Capricorn 21 December-18 January, 18) Face it – however fast you run your past is catching up with you and it's all soon going to overtake you completely. At last an opportunity to procrastinate for all you're worth with a clear conscience. Find a fence to sit on.

Aquarius 19 January - 17 February You may be pondering the likely outcome of a recent romantic encounter. But like in the Words of Katie Price, Jordan, "Like, you know, like ... like just, sort of like so ... , you know, like its gonna be like, just like so .... NO!"

Pisces 18 February - 19 March Murder and mayhem come with the territory you've mapped out, so it's about time that you went out and bought yourself a new map and a bigger gun. Don't be your own worst critic. Leave that to others.

Aries 20 March - 18 April Quit looking in the rearview. Your future lies ahead of you, paltry though it is. It's time for a more full blooded attitude towards life. Time to move to Forks, Washington (population 3,121) - and keep out of the sun.

Taurus 19 April - 19 May No better time to sell everything you can get your hands on - (and I mean everything) and invest it all in hot property in Dubai. In fact with the refrigeration under the legendary golden sandy beaches switched off Dubai has become the hottest market out there - and global warming is irrelevant.

Gemini 20 May - 20 June. Yesterday you stood at the edge of a bottomless abyss, but today the time has come to take one giant step forward! Keep smilin' and don't squander what little goodwill you have in reserve on people whose idea of fun is poking holes in your parade. Now that Venus is sailing through your house, it's time to turn turtle and ditch all those superfluous friends.

Cancer 21 June - 21 July Let's face it – that glass is half empty after all and it has a hole in the bottom to boot. You may be feeling gloomy about your future in general but redirect your efforts into making molehills out of the local scenery. Time has come to redirect your career to one of the more caring professions. This is where the smart bucks are these days.

Leo 22 July - 22 August When it comes to sense of adventure you are less of a Francis Drake than a Donald Duck. Go crack that nest-egg. Time to drop the disarming charm routine and fire a shot across someone's bow in anger. Just check your aim in life before pulling the trigger.

Virgo 23 August - 21 September The iron may be hot but the dirty laundry basket is still full. This is the time to take your dilemma by the horns and hurl it in. There is never a better time than the present to buy some new clothes and launch a new regime.

Libra 22 September - 22 October If a total stranger attempts to engage you in conversation on the Clapham omnibus you would be well advised to greet this impertinence with the contemptuous silence that it deserves. No bone fide stranger would take such a liberty.

Scorpio 23 October - 21 November. You've run aground and fallen into a quagmire of despondence. A jumbo bar of chocolate and maxi-helping o' poutine will set you up for the rest of the day. Now is the time to face up to your problems and take them on the double chin. If Susan Boyle can do it, so can you!

Sagittarius 22 Nov. - 20 December This may come as a shock to you but you are a prime specimen of galloping autism and have been since day one. This explains everything so you might just as well tune out now.

Science is TOO Important to Leave to Chance

A local group of scientists has set up QUANSO a group dedicated to the peer review of scientific documents and purported breakthroughs in the scientific community.

Spokesman Hector Gaga set out his journals objectives at an international gathering in the Kingston Regal. "We're here to cut right through rumour and innuendo to get the facts straight. At a time when rumour mills can unseat international conferences, we are particularly well placed to provide an even handed judgement on other's purported scientific findings."

We've got the resources to focus the truth as we call it. Scientists with impeccable credentials address each case on its merits"

"Our Monthly Magazine, Science Overview, is one of the best presented and funded journals on the market. At SO we have a stable of international scientific celebrities, ready to deliver expert opinion in every field."

"We are professionals and we believe passionately in our motto – "Science is SO important – don't leave it to chance."

The Future of the Kingston Bowlerama at Risk from Health and Safety Commissioners

Following a major study undertaken by the Mayor's Taskforce Health and Safety Executive (HSE) which has highlighted the considerable risks involved in many extreme or 'danger' sports local residents have commissioned Safety experts to evaluate the proposed Odessa Bowlerama scheduled for construction in Flibbits Field on the 5th concession.

The Chairman of the HSE enquiry into bowling, Alan Crufts-Bedleham has set out in stark terms the range of dangers posed by extreme sports..

"A typical bowling alley is an almost lethal collection of accidents waiting to happen. First of all it is replete with spherical objects. The HSE commission lists spherical objects as Class A-000 rated dangers to health and safety – top of the list! Such objects present pre-eminent tripping hazards and are even more dangerous when fired from guns or cannons. Your typical bowling alley is replete, utterly replete with such objects."

"In addition many of these objects are equipped with finger holes and one can only imagine the mayhem that could break loose if a bowling patron should neglect to release his / her or its ball on throwing – let alone the risks posed by pranksters and extremist terrorists pouring super-glue into these orifices with nefarious intent. It boggles the mind."

"Furthermore we have determined that there are no provisions or guards in place to prevent bowling patrons from running down the alleys to accompany their balls and becoming dangerously engaged with the ball sweeping mechanisms at the far end with potentially fatal effect. We wave a well documented case of just such an unfortunate occurrence in Little Dorking where a senior became entangled by the mechanism resulting in the amputation of all limbs. On this occasion her bowling pleasure was permanently curtailed."

"We are also concerned about the carbon footprint of bowling alleys. Most bowling balls are fashioned from Zimbabwean negro-assoluta basalt which as we all know is environmentally and politically unsustainable. The HSE weighs all of these considerations when analyzing the 'Risk footprint' of any activity and the safety conditions of the Zimbabwe bowling ball miners must also be factored into our analysis."

"The typical ball is an object of considerable mass - meaning that you would drop them on an opponent's head or toes to considerable deleterious effect."

"Commenting upon the appalling carbon footprint that the typical bowling alley represents is not in fact part of our mandate. Nevertheless the environmental aspects of occupying a space that is saturated with CO2 expelled by patrons in competitive excitement is deleterious to health and must be factored into a balanced risk profile."

The Kingston based HSE Group has therefore mandated the following safety procedures to take immediate effect in all Bowling alleys in the Kingston area.

1) All prospective bowlers must undergo a 10 week induction course which will ultimately issue a licence to bowl upon successful completion of oral, written and practical testing.

2) All licensed bowlers must wear appropriate quick-release gloves, helmets, safety goggles as well as 'sure grip' shoes.

3) All patrons must wear protective acoustic isolation gear and bowling alleys must themselves be equipped with the latest acoustic diminution matting to deaden the sound of bowling ball impact and transit.

4) All alleys are to be staffed by licenced safety personnel to prevent patrons from accompanying projectiles down to the pin reset sweepers. Portcullis gates activated by chip and pin devices affixed to the bowlers helmets have been proven effective measures against these unfortunate occurrences.

5) All bowling alleys to be made fully handicapped compliant with floor mounted ball lines not to exceed 5mm in height.

All scoring facility record sheets and control buttons to be floor mounted or at a height no greater than 12mm (.5 inches) above the floor plane.

6) All patrons must provide PUKA (Prevention of Un-Kingstonian Activities) evidence that they are not and never have been involved in any named terrorist activity.

Due to the nature of the CO2 risk offsetting a carbon footprint by purchasing carbon credits from Papua New Guinea is not an option. This is a health problem that can only be addressed by providing indoor planting of CO2 consuming foliage at a level of at least 15 sq Metre planting per patron.

This planting should be fully integrated into the bowling theatre areas but should not obstruct clear view of the bowling pins or present a trip hazard.

New Landmark Proposed for Odessa Roundabout

A new landmark is proposed for the Odessa Roundabout.

The roundabout has stirred up so much controversy in the Kingston Area that folks from far and wide have flocked to try it out, taking many turns around the installation in both directions. Despite its current popularity which may result in tailbacks for many miles, there have been many calls for a longer term vision to make the experience more memorable.

Paczki Donut has proposed their own solution to this identity crisis.

Their proposal has been acclaimed by Beautify Odessa Movement (BOM) who are keen to see as many advertisements as possible in the area to provide much needed tax funding for public beautification art installations.
