The UltiPassivHaus

With the costs of energy skyrocketing and the standards of construction becoming ever more onerous, local designers are competing to come up with an ultimate Passiv-Haus – a house so passive that the owners will never need to emerge from it to make a living. In its ultimate form it can be run on the power output from a single iPhone 4. Architect Samoht Eil Riaf has redefined the solution with a domestic building constructed to the highest standards of air tightness and its insulation standard is the equivalent of wearing 45 thermal fleeces. The secret of this high performance is 900m of polyisocyanurate carcinoglut- animate which embalms your habitation in an airtight barrier, coupled with locating it 25 metres underground to take advantage of geothermal energy without resorting to costly pumping devices. "Our building construction is such that we recommend that oxygen masks are supplied. All power, required to keep the air pumps operating, is neatly provided by utilising the waste heat of the occupants as long as this is available. In the field we were finding that homeowners were not warming to the curb appeal of our discreet subterranean siting strategies until we began to provide holographic recreations of their favourite buildings on frameworks which also accommodate additional solar panels. This allows the homeowner to mix and match favourite fashionable styles from Palais du Louvre, high tech minimalism, neo gothic or Vegas/Caesarian style."

Radische Farm to Go Naturist with Creationist Themed / Apple Park

The historic Radische property on the Loyalist Highway once part of the extensive Smith Farm has changed hands after five decades.

In a fierce bidding war between a Romanian Camp for Gypsy Balladeers and the Balder Dash Christian Naturist Theme Park, the latter has been able to stump up the asking price.

'We wanted to find a property with flat open views and reasonable access to Canada's major population centres. We are keen to project a wholesome Christian family message centred on a Garden of Eden Theme.

This naturally extends to the BalderDash Annual Autumn Apple Festival, when we throw ourselves open to the community' explained Dazy Hefter to our boggle-eyed reporter.

'We envision the creation of a snake free Eden with a wide range of fauna living in harmony with our clientele. Messages and other directives from God will be relayed direct to your iPhones.'

In downtown Odessa new Home Hardware owner May-Lee Lan Low is one of many who are excited about the business prospects presented by such a large community on our doorstep. She explains her revised stock strategy to accommodate the new demands.

'No more stockings of cut price ToughDuck Overalls and work shoes, and space eating up wheel barrows and boring old screws. Now we planning expansions of sun screens section, Bibles, Band-Aids and camera and binoculars section of business, and many high ticket items we like.'

De-Railing the Gravy Train

Mayoral Candidate Edsel Furd Campaign Pledges

The Odessa Mayoral debate held Dec. 14th in Shell-Lube Centre for the Perforating Arts reached a heated climax last night before Edsel Furd roared off in a fury with his megaphones blaring into the night. Edsel has promised in his central platform to take 1 billion tax dollars out of the local community services and privatise all services such as education, policing and infrastructure building. "If derailing the gravy train works in Toronto, it's gonna work here. We will create the first 'net gain' community in Canada where cost of running typical public services will be in the negative digits. Outsourcing is gonna be the key to our success. There are many organisations world wide, like the Central Bank of Nigeria, who stand ready to buy into this radical programme and make up any shortfalls."

'For instance we have a radical proposal to privatise the local road systems allowing any stretch of public thoroughfare to revert to the adjacent owners who will be responsible for its upkeep. The beneficiaries of this windfall may choose to enhance their own net worth by establishing toll gates. There is nothing unusual in this, a perfectly normal practice in the Odessa area since the stone age until quite recently.'

Edsel has come out in favour of individual ownership of unregistered guns and promises to ensure that no registration database is established. 'I believe in international free trade in weaponry. And don't talk to me about the importance of retaining our nuclear deterrent. A well armed and unregistered citizenry is the best defence against incursions from Ottawa and those Big Guys in Kingston. Once we privatise the pens it will be up to every local citizen to step up to the plate and do his bit to maintain public safety.' 'I am a father of 14 healthy children and for many years I have run a successful business providing decal stick-ons for Macdonalds Happy Toys, so I know the ins and outs of the tough business world and the importance of balancing a family budget.

'Frankly I have had it up to here, (he indicated the top of his orange sequinned Stetson) 'with the incumbent Mayor Pratt's mantra about 'rights to happiness and the pursuit of life' as if it were some kind of picky bride to be courted with the inducement of your tax dollars strewn in her way. Happiness for me is when the bullet hits the target, neat and no mess.'

'Stick with me and together we'll make Odessa Unrecognisable – and that's a promise!'

New BP Casino to open in Odessa

Since the rebranding of BP as Bankers Paradise Casinos the banking industry has become the largest engine of growth in our economy. Damon Lute, manager of BP, explains tersely, "If we do not provide the high stakes then the banking industry will just up stakes and go somewhere else that's more profitable."

"The trouble with banking practices today as the foundation for a dynamic economy is that the common man perceives them as being more 'trickle up' than 'trickle down.' However following the recent economic hiccup many of today's bankers have become much more interested in arithmetic. There is often little incentive to invest their hoards of money from rescue and stimulus packages in crackpot local businesses where the return of interest is low. Bankers endowed with world vision and a wider perspective think globally and realise that it is far more profitable to invest almost anywhere else where returns can much higher.'

'We should be patterning our local economy on a new vision for banking and financial services. Look at what the City of London has managed to achieve in transforming their economy into a global powerhouse simply by blowing away all the tiresome regulations.

Odessa is competing to provide a site for the newest Bankers Paradise Casino planned in the Kingston area. The new facility will be a large step towards paying for all those government services that everyone wants but no one wants to pay for, Mr Lute explained.

Poverty is a lifestyle choice. It is not to everybody's taste, but nor are the alternatives such as hard work or poker. It is a lifestyle choice that we should be loath to condemn."

Cancun talks on Climate change Chamber of Commerce to send fifty five delegates

Frank Pratt, recently retired from onerous mayoral duties has accepted the task of leading the OCC delegation to the Cancun talks on Climate Change. Frank has taken considerable time to acclimatise himself to the issue and has researched the Cancun climate situation in depth so that he can arrive red hot on all the latest science. "Climate Change is the greatest challenge facing humanity since the mass distinction of the dinosaurs. There are going to be no second chances here. We have got to rethink the way we live from bottoms up. And in my opinion if we have got to have climate change it might as well be more like the one they have in Cancun."

Shoplifting Crackdown at Od-Mart

Od-Mart has decided to get tough on crime, specifically shoplifters who breeze through their Main Street store helping themselves willy-nilly to goods without intention of paying. Incognito shop detectives disguised as shelving units laden with goods have been enlisted to patrol the aisles to apprehend unsuspecting mal-factors. Because the shelf units are ill suited to hot pursuit, these security agents are being trained in Taser deployment tactics to immobilise patrons until police arrive.

New Improved Pet-Allure

Pet-U-Land's Pet-Allure has revulsionised the lucrative market for Dog Fragrances with the release of their latest signature product Cave Canem (or 'CaCa' as it is referred to by the already converted). Laden with pheromones and SniFaPeal ingredients and available in the convenient InstaCloud application format you can envelope your faithful companion in a mist of alluring come-hither fragrance which will prostrate the other dogs in the neighbourhood as well as their owners drawing them into your pet's compliant fan club. You can rehabilitate what others may perceive as your slavering pest into the toast of your canine neighbourhood.

As CaCa works to transform and enhance your pet's natural fragrances, you will find that friends and neighbours and their pets will tend to genuflect to appreciate the subtle nuanaces of what makes your pet so particular.

For those pets who tend to be stand offish and resist their care giver's come hither supplications or are perhaps excessively aggressive for close contact Cave Canem can be applied remotely using high pressure Projektajet technology which facilitates the transfer of a cloud of fragrance at high speed over a distance of up to 40 metres (in windless conditions.)

You will find that your pet's attitude to life will also be utterly transformed as it learns to exploit new found popularity.

Also available from Pet-U-Land in a twin marketed package promotion is their Own-Allure which can be applied liberally when you need to attract your dog's attention or discreetly mist fellow pet-walkers undertaking their daily routines. Your pet will be all over you in seconds. Comes in several convenient spray formats.

Melopomone Morte

at work on her latest blockbuster

Celebrated doyenne of historical fiction writing, Melopomone Morte whose most recent reassessment of events leading up to the the Death of Socrates in Socratic Method - Hemlock or Heimlich? has become a must read in Classical History circles, has embarked on resolving a new conundrum posed since classical times.

Set during a period of painful upheaval during the Peloponnesian Wars in Greece Helot and Harlot is the poignant love sory of a star-crossed Lacadaemonian serving wench working at a fast food outlet, the Big Chicken. She is caught up in events leading up to brutal murder.

Pericles and his sons previously believed to have perished in the Athenian plague of 430 are now conclusively shown to have succumbed to the ministrations of the lovely Agathippe and her poisoned tipped drumsticks.

Speaking from her book-lined sanctum at the Snitford Farm, Melopomone enthuses, 'My research into the original authoritative texts gives a rebalanced view of history and show how even a com-

BigApple's new Chicken Franchise - the Big Chicken is the setting for this thrilling insight into the ancient world.

MoO-MoO Fundraiser

Another priceless 20th century masterpiece has resurfaced locally, this time on the Snitford Farm. Buried deep in the manure of an ancient tithe barn which is currently undergoing extensive restoration a hidden original masterpiece by Edvard Munch has been retrieved. A second rate copy is believed to be displayed in the Oslo Munchies Museum. The Portrait of an Artist as a Night Wanderer is a work which will elicit sympathetic remonstrance in sociopaths habituated to psychoanalytical detachment from the phenomenological certainties of an ever rebarbaritive burden of existence. MooMoo is fighting attempted extradition of the masterpiece (as well as the remnants of the Snitford clan) to ensure that this masterpiece which once was located in the collection of the Vienna Haupt-ermunchen-galeria-platzendorf-strudelpinocoteca and drew crowds to the Vienna Secession exhibition of 1904 is not lost to our local community.

This month's Feral Alpacas to be Made into Footballs Hunting Season Extended

The Church of the Divine Remedy has challenged the Congregation of the Perpetual Pentecost to a PaintBall exercise in the Mud River flats.

Tee Party to be held in Kingston Harbour. Why should Odessians miss out on the fun due to accidents of geography. The original Boston Tee Party, held at the legendary George III Club in Boston. Bring your own clubs and pet peeves.

The PeeWee VeloceRaptors play the Odessa Orks at Fina Arena, Thursday Dec. 28th, 1:00a.m.

The Pee Wee VeloceRaptors will be taking a well earned break in Honolulu while Fina Area is being adapted for something else much more useful.

Freefall parachute jump - Once in a lifetime opportunity! Bring you own parachute! Every second Tuesday of the month Pickup arranged before and after in Snitford Fields. 2:00 pm sharp

Ravening feral Alpacas which have been the blight of many of the local farms in the Odessa area are to have their hunting season extended to a year round open season to the delight of local sportsmen. The coat of a feral alpaca tends to be scrofulous and ill-suited to local knitting bees. However a market has developed for transforming their tough skins into footballs for export to the less fortunate in slums and favelas around the world where football becomes one of the few passports to social betterment. Alpaca footballs are easier on the foot for those who cannot afford the appropriate footwear.

Local hunt clubs are delighted to be granted open access 'passports' across any landscape to pursue the devastating alpaca herd hoards.

The Workout from Heaven drives Fitness to a New Level

Lose Pounds and Pounds with our Revolutionary Stationary Diet

They won't call you a couch potato for nothing. Just admit it - you like to curl up on the sofa and watch TV throughout the day while ploughing through bag after bag of potato chips and YumYums and you dream of the sveltythe new you that is hoping to emerge one day. You're not alone! Around the globe, people long to lose weight the easy way. Perhaps that's why a new diet seems be hungry all the time, and I certainly don't want to give up my potato chips." You don't have to thanks to Hoodinia Gordonii which we recommend taken intravenously 24/7. A cactus-like plant that grows in the African desert, this vegetable has been consumed for centuries, mostly by Bushmen who needed to stay trim and unappetizing to predators while running away from them hundreds of kilometers a day. Now, it's benefits are finally available to the public at very reasonable cost! This amazing plant keeps you from being hungry by tricking your brain into thinking you've eaten quite enough of everything already. You will have no desire to eat any more. No more binging on potato chips... no more extra servings of pizza, and all this without really ever going on a diet, or to the gym you'll lose weight effortlessly. As featured in Vogue, a product will change your life for ever!

Genetic Wonders

The human being is considered by some as among the pinnacles of creation and has been documented with approximately 30,000 genes making up a complex genomic map. But this is somewhat less than that of the common cacao bean (35,000). Dr Zwielight of Queens University Genome Project, has been mapping the genome of the common chocolate biscuit. He clarifies, 'Yes, in fact the genetic make up of a chocolate biscuit with its complex wheat and cacao DNA ingredients will surpass human sophistication by more than a factor of two. And it is when you get into really complex life forms like the Homemade Pumpkin Pie, (see illustration) that true genetic sophistication can be revealed. He noted it as one of the ironies of modern science that it was the relatively simpler human being who discovered the mysteries of DNA and methods of mapping the genome that has led to the mapping of the pumpkin pie and not vice versa. 'There are many other life forms that are clearly more complex all around us which we encounter in every kitchen or supermarket'.

Dear Aggie

a weekly syndicated column with Agnus O'Nant B.Psych, MPD, mem. SICCO

Dear Aggie,

I want to bring to you attention the defective service offered by The Gene Genie and ask your advice on how to remediate some of the disastrous consequences of following their programme. My husband Clem and I decided that we wanted to contribute exemplary children to the world, kids who would respond well to the challenges facing this coming century. I have no problems with my own genetic inheritance but we both agreed that Clem's was less than optimal and so we sought the assistance of Gene-Genie. We opted for two children, a boy and a girl, to be born as twins. I specified that the girl would be a blonde bombshell, dazzling blue eyes and an Einstein level IQ, rather like me. Clem's specs for the boy were more modest, tall, raven haired, green eyed, also with an IQ in the high 180's.

The only other attributes that we stipulated was that they would both have an appetite for the good life - that the girl would be a concert pianist and the boy an olympic class sportsman (we specified lugging) We felt that these talents would help to sustain us in our declining years. Regrettably the Gemma that has developed looks more like a piano than sounds like one. As for Gemmo, his appetite for life has transferred into a daunting display of orthodontics. Nor do we have any idea what to do with the 17 micro humanoid assistants that were provided unsolicited by Gene-Genie who insisted that our children would need stimulating playmates. They are eating us out of catfood, house and home. I would firstly like to advise others that they should read the small print very carefully in dealing with Gene-Genie and than solicit you advice on how Clem and I can address this disastrous situation.

Yours Sincerely,

Veracity Vittle

Dear Veracity,

I am a great believer in Life being an Adventure at all costs. You have been more adventurous than most however with sadly unsatisfactory results. In my latest best-seller 999 Things That You Should Do Before You Die I have set out many intriguing options for enhancing one's life scope. In your case seeing the Taj Mahal by moonlight will not significantly ameliorate the problems that you are describing so I would suggest that you start at the other end of the list and work back from 999. Please find following some of the helpful section headings from these latter entries which will give a flavour of what may be accomplished and will undoubtedly transform your family life.

February barbeque scheduled in Odessa for Ignatieff

Barbeque chit chat has become the central plank in a Liberal policy shift to encourage more interaction between the leadership of the party and the grassroots. Odessa's legendary Arsene family are keen to climb onto the Liberal bandwagon with a proposal to create a linear barbeque which will stretch along the north side of the Loyalist Highway from Odessa to Nananee. In this way the Liberal leader can become accessible to the needs of a wider community and sample the widest range of hospitality alongside the 22 km firepit.

Vesuvia Arsene is applying for a grant from the Liberal party to stage this event with the purchase of 50,000 boxes of CanTire E-Z automatic barbeque starter. The liberal leader and any attendees will be expected to provide their own beefs.

Meanwhile the Tee-Party (Canadian Branch) is laying yards of Astroturf over every grass root it can find with the view to making the world's largest mini golf course.

The Age of NICE is So Over

Leading demographics expert and pundit Greely Ravenwolf explains the age of NICE, Non-Inflationary Constant Expansion, is now being overtaken by the age of the ICC or Inflationary Constant Contraction. 'Demographers note that the 'Iccies' as they are now known, are in the ascendant everywhere derailing every gravy train that they can lay their hands on.' Now that old fashioned Yuppies have succumbed to DOPIes (Dying Old Persons) and Dumpies or the Downwardly Mobile unemployed are being supplanted by Chunkies, (Chinese with Unlimited Kindred). Empty Nesters are increasingly being replaced by the Empty Nestless. All this plays into the hands of the ICCies.

Is this the Honey Bun Club or the Chateau Laurier?

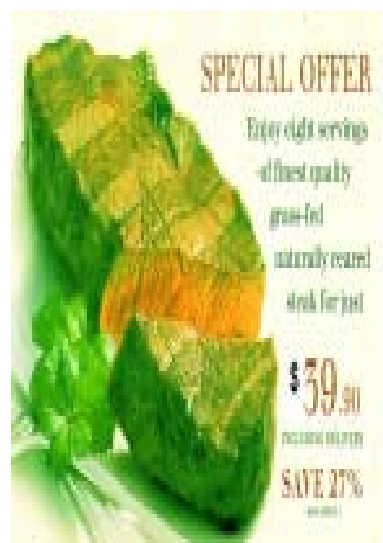

Pranksters have hacked into and amended Google GPS details and caused mayhem in the Odessa area.

Shuffled city locations on the Google Earth Routefinder system has caused chaos with the travel plans of tourists who rely heavily on this system to find their way in an ever more complex world. As a result there has been a large influx of tourists looking for a range of sites that the Odessa area is ill-equipped to provide ranging from the Vegas Honeybun Club to the Chateau Laurier. The Snibbet farm has experienced an unprecedented rise in the high speed traffic exiting prematurely from the 401 and making its way across their fields to terminate in the Belgrove Swamplands.

Barbara Belty is recuperating in the Kingston general hospital after spending a night in the rain stranded on her car roof as she fruitlessly sought her hospitality destination in Mud Lake. 'I thought something was off beam when the road veered off into the muskeg. I checked out the photo simulations and practically nothing seemed to marry up with the streetscapes I was seeing on my screen. I like to think of myself as in the forefront of this technology, I don't go anywhere without my GPS, but sadly it was floor mounted and began to fail early as the swamp water began to infiltrate the cab.' Ms Belty would not clarify whether she was destined for the Vegas Honeybun Club or the Chateau Laurier.

State Visitation to Odessa Plenipotentiary of Lagos'i Tipi'i

Visitation to Odessa by Plenipotentiary of Lagos'i Tipi'i

His Excellency, the most revered and unadulterated Lord Krisp'i of Lagos'i Tipi'i will be in Odessa today making representations to the Odessa Chamber of Commerce. A visionary who stands in control of a floodgate of energy potential, H.E. Lord Krisp'i has a breathtaking vision for solving the world's energy problems. 'The annual energy output of Lagos'i Tipi'i is reckoned to be the equivalent of 30 trillion bbls of oil or 107 nanotherms, exceeding the annual output of the entire Gulf region by a factor of 3. A mere 40 kilometers below our beautiful country lies this untapped wealth of energy, enough in fact to provide the entire Chinese nation with 24hour air-conditioning five times over. A recent Sino Tip'i Fellowship Collateral Co-operation Agreement has earmarked a substantial site for future exploration.

H.E. Lord Krisp'i has revealed that the sovereign wealth fund of the National Bank of Lagos'i Tipi'i is worth a staggering 95 trillion Zna'i (to put this in context H.E. Lord Krisp'i estimates that the real estate value of the entire continental United States is worth no more than an approximated 62.486 trillion Zna'i.) H.E. Lord Krisp'i is seeking willing partners who will invest in this huge potential energy Shangri La.

'Lagos'i Tipi'i is one of the oldest and most stable dynasties on the planet. His Most Serene and Unadulterated Highness, the supreme Emperor of the Bazooga-bird Perch can trace his lineage back to the stone age, or as we like to call it the Lava Time,' explains H.E. Lord Krisp'i.

'We are on a spending spree to create the sophisticated infrastructure required by a modern nation. We are seeking to purchase a world class university, such as Kings College Cambridge or Princeton, and move it to our beautiful capital Moo. We have already negotiated a franchise of Louver III to house our priceless collection of milor'i'i shell art.' amidst recognised international masterpieces.

The Bigger Hole Picture

Growing controversy surrounds the production of Tim Horton's donuts which are currently being airlifted ready freeze dried to over 60,000 destinations across Canada from the Xing Hung Chin Lo Fat factory in China. Big Hole Enterprises has set up a fully automated factory there which covers 5,000 hectares of prime located land near the Bin Xin airport. But labour costs have rocketed and they say that they are going to have to look for an alternative to their operative there, Mr Chow Hai. Possible alternative locations being mooted include Kalinmantan, close to where many of the new healthy-eat essential ingredients are sourced or the Comorros Islands where real estate is going for a song. There is a perfectly uneducated labour force available everywhere that can be laid on for a fraction of the cost of Mr Chow Hai our operative in Xing Hun'

Spokesman and CEO for the Big Hole, M.T. Wring enthuses about new technology that is expected to come on line. 'We are looking at delivering our product as freeze dried pellets encased in a protective dichlorodifluoro-acetasalicylic packaging that will fluoresce into any one of a range of preselected glazes as it is misted with a non-carcinogenic poxy acetylene. The process is engineered to emit a home cooked ready baking aroma, our own secret and patented Insta-fug process, which will keep our customers salivating for more. This will help reduce the base price per consumer unit by .0872 cents per dozen, a saving which can be shared by franchisee and the consumer.

SINOPIA Poised for Massive Efficiency Savings

Under the new trade equalization strategies to better balance world trade the Government of the Peoples Republic of China will take over the Ontario Power Authority including its controversial FIT or Feed in Tariff Programme, know familiarly as FITOPIA. This pays a guaranteed 42 cents per KWH of PV power fed into the National Grid for a guaranteed period of 20 years. The new programme will operate under the acronym SINOPIA – The Sino-Ontario Power In Authority. All participants' energy produce will be piped back into the international grid through SINOPIA but a clever on site device will allow participants to buy back the energy that they require for their own use at source and at fluctuating current market rates (calculated in Renminbi). In the coming year SINOPIA Green are expected to deliver 300,000 of their Transchrystamorphic PV panels, the equivalent of two 20 GigaWatt nuclear power stations to the Kingston area.

SINOPIA have been active in seeking out major land acquisitions in the area to provide capacity for international investors. Hung Moon, spokesman for SINOPIA, is cautiously optimistic. 'We see a colossal market for power opening up just south of Lake Ontario. This will be the heartland for the regeneration of North America after the current Obama Administration has been deported.'

Easy Gov Without the Frills

Following in the wake of international privatisation success stories local governments in the Greater Kingston Area are looking at the advantages of coming together to create one large outsourcing amenity – a so called 'EasyGov' arrangement.

MPP Dockett Blank explained to the Big-Wig Standard, 'The Kingston area is weighted down with huge government funded amenities and institutions whose contribution to our notional wealth is absolutely zero - in fact they are a net drain and complete waste of time. What is the point of having a whole slew of people malingering and watching television in locked rooms when any fool can see that they are sitting in the midst of a real estate bonanza? Let's face it folks, we should let government get on with the roles what they are really well placed to fulfil, like collecting revenues, deploying bombers and barbeque chit chat. Let them outsource all of the day to day running of these institutions to people with the necessary expertise. We should be running our government like a no-frills airline, just buy in the services as and when they are required.

Gov-Light concepts for outsourcing are becoming a byword for successful deficit reduction in countries embarking on drastic pruning of their services. What do the people in power like us know about running a hospital or a prison, zilch! We should be leaving that to the professionals.'

Finding Your Roots in the Community

Vibrate at the Right Frequency! Local celebrity writer Rhonda Chyrne's latest book The Power explains how you can visualise your way to a successful life.

'The Universe and all parts of it are alive and responsive to the power of your mind. You've just got to make it all vibrate at the right frequency. You know that the human brain is 80% plain water. But that water is aligned and full of purpose. Like it's travelled through many brains before it got to yours and it must have learned something! I have now developed the habit of drinking only aligned and thought nurturing water, that has sat for hours absorbing the ecstasy of great music or

MTV. And I can tell you it has made all the difference in my life.'

'I make it a daily routine to visualise success: how I'm going to walk into that interview, sit down confidently on the interview desk, spread my legs and engage or befriend all the little people in the back office with largesse from my picnic hamper. I visualise that trail of devastation I will lay and the chorus of comments that 'This girl has got it... and we need it.' Just keep smilin' and you'll be fine. Kiss good-bye to that Negative Nancy that chirps that you are not smart enough or pretty enough to hack it. With The Secret and The Power you will be able to hack everything! Simply focus on your feelings of love for what it is you desire, whether its cash or a fancy home or Mister Right and it will all come hurtling down the chute.'

A mind trained with the recipes I have set out in The Power can visualise away all life's little setbacks. I have testimonials from all walks of life from streetwalkers to cancer victims. I even cured my own Mr Right of his reliance on eyeglasses by plying my empowerment principles. I like to think that my philosophy combines the genius of Jesus enhanced by some of Dilbert's more up to date wisdom to create a compelling roadmap for dreaming up your own success however you want to define it.'

Affordable Starter Cells to be made Available to local In-

The Minister or Public Safety Vic Toes has announced a major expansion of the prison building programme in the Kingston area. Currently it costs $350,000 to maintain a woman in prison per annum. The average cost of each prisoner, including parolees and day release prisoners in $160,000 per head. 'With this kind of money available we should be able to secure top class accommodation, particularly in these days of falling demand as felons have turned their attention to financial services for which extended jail terms are deemed inappropriate,' explained Mr Toes. 'We could also provide live CSI video links to assist prisoners to pay back their debt to society deploying their banking skills.' 155 million dollars is to be dedicated to creating 576 top quality cells for local residents. Local architects, Dez-Masters, have suggested an innovative concept of starter cells to be dotted around the countryside, using a Gro-Cell concept. We would have an allocated budget of approximately $500,000 per cell which should be enough to secure a decent quality of life for the architects.

The Frugal Housewife

A new recipe book, inspired by the legendary Mrs Nesbitt, has been published under the name Frugal Foods in which Miguela Ciccolini and Lorna Strump provide recipe inspiration for times of belt tightening and frill slashing.

And all with locally sourced ingredients!

Fridge Fantasies - A whole section is dedicated to setting out specialties that can be retrieved and concocted from the back of your fridge

Basic ingredients:

- Fridge full of leftovers
- Fridge magnets
- Ol' Fashioned Meat Grinder
- Large Stromboli Pot
- Stove (working)

Perennial Favourites: Refugee Potage - Save those Best Before Refugees lurking at the back of the box and other outdated ingredients, grind to a fine tilth and boil in Stromboli pressure cooker for about 60 minutes. Strain and serve piping hot.

Family Favourites: Wilted lettuce casserole - pound lettuce into fine tilth and pour over a bed of desiccated breadcrumbs rejuvenated with out of date yoghurt

Sprinkle over with a crispy layer of muesli and bake for 20 minutes. Cut into squares or as desired.

Hospitality Favourites:

Save those greens cut from you spring onions and celery leaves - remove elastic bands and set them aside for later use (see Section L entitled Home Made Cheweyes)

Puree the contents of your compost pile and allow to drain - remove all metal bits with fridge magnets

Centrifuge out stray plastic and superfluous neoprene and set aside for later use.

Fashion residue into small globular cakes to be deep fried in oil and monosodium glutamate until crispy. Retrieve and set aside oil and MSG for future reuse. (see Section Q entitled Desert Ideas Worth Considering) Dust in chocolate or curry powder to suit taste.

Death Panel Hospitals Proven to be Health Black Spots

Risk Assessments provided by the International Tea Party highlight significantly increased risk attached of attending our local hospitals.

The likelihood of serious illness is demonstrated to increase by more than a factor of two when clients are observed even approaching such health care facilities. 'Health care costs then skyrocket because they know that they have got you,' explained Mr Foist Grey, lead actuary and CEO at FRISK.

Now that insurance companies have caught wind of this phenomenon they have come to insist on a full disclosure of risk.

Many claims have been rejected because persons attendant upon a hospital for medical treatment have not adequately and in good faith declared their pre-existing medical conditions. 'Clearly these withholders of information would not be approaching the hospital in the first place unless they have already suspected an serious underlying health risk.'

Massive Health Alert Fainting Goat Syndrome

Health Alert: Fainting Goat Syndrome

Fainting Goat Syndrome, or Myotonia Congenita, is poised to become the Number One preoccupation of residents in the Kingston Area in the near future.

As the population ages, more of the greying generation, the Grooglies, will begin to succumb to this affliction. Symptoms are readily recognisable, a tendency to move around in ever diminishing circles, bleating mindlessly and then ultimately collapse into a fatal stupor. Death is inevitable but the lifespan for this affliction has been known to extend over years or even decades. Medical experts have noted that Myotonia Congenita causes sclerosis of the cervical cortex rendering thought less and less probable. The sufferer becomes literally starved for thought.

There is no known cure for MC according to well placed medical practitioners at KinksGen. 'What is usually experienced is a long drawn out decline which may begin to set in during the early stages of adulthood. The effects can be reduced by a strict diet avoiding proteins, sugars and fruits. Exposure to sunlight, gamma rays or electromagnetic radiation in any form is known to exacerbate symptoms.

Funghal alkaloids are being experimented with and show some promise of a medical breakthrough. (ed. Note: These can be foraged in the culverts alongside our principal highways - see Edna Shroom's informative factsheet - Journey into the World of the Fabulous Fungi.

The Caveman diet

has worked for hundreds of thousand of years and may work for you.

A diet rich in hearty roots, berries and raw dactyls!

Cavemen shunned foods that were refined, partially hydrogenated or high in phenalacetaldehyde dimethyl acetamals and lived a full and invigorating life in a world replete with natural challenges.

They rarely reported repetitive strain disorders or failing libido.

They lived lives with plenty of sunshine when it was safe to come out of their cave and rarely required Vitamin D supplements

You too can enjoy the benefits of this lifestyle:

Rule 1) Keep it simple - avoid cooking wherever possible, especially inside your cave

2) Take plenty of exercise between bites whether it is fending off loved ones or natural predators

3) Meat is a ritual food - save kosher and halal cuts of 'saurus for special feast occasions.

4) Snack on low calorie tubers and grubs between meals.

5) Take dainty fistfuls of carrion and masticate well. Get into the habit of chewing 100 times for each mouthful.

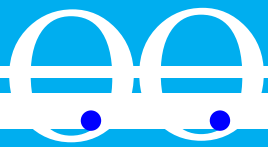

6) Always choose items with minimal packaging and minimized travel miles. Get the food to come to your cave door if possible.

7) Remember an eco friendly, low carbon footprint starts at your cave door.

8) Be sure to get plenty of sleep (in a risk free environment) Try to adjust sleepie-time to coincide with sleep patterns of major predators like sabre-tooth tigers and veloceraptors. Remember to lock cave door while sleeping.

9) If the carcass is many times the size of you, be sociable and invite friends around to partake. Someday it may be you!

Multicultural Multilingual Odessa

According to linguistics expert Penelope Plummie ninety seven different languages are spoken in the Odessa area alone. "Part of this remarkable cultural mosaic is the result of the waves of migration that have taken place since the stone age. For instance at the Church of the Perpetual Pentecost on Mud Flats Avenue I have recorded a huge linguistic diversity among the 96 attendees. These languages range from Akkadian, which has died out in its original Mesopotamian homeland to Tuktoyaktukian B which is spoken by only one other known person." "Every day we witness the tragic demise of another linguistic treasure as the last speaker of an ancient tongue is laid to rest." But the PeePee's have begun to reverse this trend through their Sunday ling-fests. We now have more languages than ever spoken by a single recorded person. "Another language spoken locally is often English. But I find that it is a lot less nuanced vehicle for the transfer of subtle ideas or for poetic evocation than most of these dying rarities," insists Ms Plummie.

New! Security Helmet: SmutterDing to be tested on Odessa Dum-

Swedish designers have created an inspired personal security device in a collar that works on the principle of the automobile air bags which they plan to market under the name Smuuter-Ding. The designers have been working on this scheme for 6 years. The genius of this device is that it offers full protection without mussing up your hairstyle. Under conditions of duress a tiny transmitter locates the nearest satellite for an overview analysis of the dangers posed. A returning positive assessment activates a microscopic solenoid which is powered by a photo voltaic cell and inflates the Smuuter-Ding in .001 seconds. The designers have come to Odessa to run extensive tests. 'We have tested these on crash test dummies to great success, now we are ready to apply our tests to real ones,' explains Lars van Svensk the entrepreneur who has carried a life long vision to fruition. The Smuuter-Ding is available in a wide range of styles, colours and materials and is expected to be a hit with the international spring couture collections.

The greening of the Snitford Farm has created a Mecca for wild animals in the area. Ravening feral alpacas have been breaking down neighbouring fences to ravage the bounty of vegetation that is thriving around the historic barns and middens.

Local By-Law Banning Minarettes

Following the Swiss Governments clampdown on the construction of minarets in Switzerland progressive societies worldwide are rushing to impose bans on these visually intrusive structures. A local by-law is proposed to ensure that minarets are not constructed in the Odessa area. Minarets have been proven beyond reasonable doubt to alter the flight paths of the more evolved species of birds, (the ones we wish to promote) In contrast, according to Edsel Furd, majorettes alter the flight patterns of local birds in a more socially acceptable manner.

CSI series to be held in the Odessa

Naturalist forensic criminologist Penelope Wormley breeds her own blowfly or "Calliphoridae" to aid her in complex murder crime investigations.

Ensconsed in her well equipped laboratory on the Snitford Farm, Penelope explains, 'When the average blowfly is in its prime (approximately 4 minutes), it can detect the presence of carrion up to 10 miles (16,093,443mm) distant. This extraordinary talent coupled with my own will be an invaluable resource in detecting the presense of rotting corpses in the Odessa area.

'The blowfly goes through 4 very distinct stages moving from egg, to larva, to pupa to fully evolved fly. It is by careful analysis of the stage of its development on a corpse that we are able to ascribe exact time of death with astonishing accuracy. All of our blowflies are fully trained and then microchipped banded before they are sent out into the field. Once galvanised to action it is possible to follow them to a specific GPS location when we witness a sudden mass decampment. We have arranged for a full CSI style team to be on hand 24/7 to monitor these sudden migrations.'

'We know that the Odessa area may be riddled with heinous crimes, but the problem is that they have never been detected and so make very poor CSI style television. Calliphoridae is going to change all that. We expect Odessa to emerge as one of the world recognised, heritage hotspots where CSI investigations can be carried out on a weekly basis. We have successfully dated our first local murder victim, from remains found under a slab in the Down-tern field as being a young man with no obvious or traceable orthodontics who met an untimely end as the result of and unfortunate beheading March 16, 1537, approximately 3:37 pm EDT. The crime remains on our 'as yet unsolved' books until further investigations have been completed.

In a conclusive survey undertaken at Shell-Lube in Odessa, 11 respondents declared that some point in their lives they had experienced the telltale symptoms of stress, worries about money, loved ones or children and personal adequacy.
